

IN MEMORY OF DR. MAUREEN RAJUAN

About a year ago our dear colleague, Maureen Rajuan, passed away after a short illness. Maureen worked for many years as an English teacher and as a teacher trainer at Achva College of Education. She had been serving as head of the English Department when she passed away so suddenly.

Maureen was a strong advocate of ETAI and realized the importance of ETAI as a path for professional development for teachers and for her students. She herself presented at many conferences and encouraged her students not only to attend but also to present.

Maureen cared about English teaching in Israel and strived to improve it in her own ways. Multiculturalism fascinated Maureen and she took it upon herself to do research about it and act as a spokeswoman for this issue. She was involved in many projects both in Israel and abroad spreading her beliefs on the importance of this issue in education in general and as English educators specifically.

She is sorely missed by her friends and colleagues.
